Communication and stewardship...with our busy lifestyle, we probably communicate more than ever...we post, we share, we text, we tweet...and hopefully, we still take time, in real time, to say "pull up a chair and let's chat." There's nothing quite like a warm conversation between friends is there?

As it is stated in the church's Manual of Operations, the communication committee oversees all communications from the Session and committees to the congregation and the general public through bulletins, calendars, Church Directory, email and eblasts, Facebook, online Member Directory, photography, Steeple Views, the web site, and newspaper and TV announcements. In case you wondered, there are about a dozen or so folks involved in the work related to communications and if you would like to know who does what, please let me know.

And you know, it's not just what tools we use to communicate, its what we communicate, and how we communicate. And it needs to be a collaborative process...not dominated by one or two people but with a team of active members of the congregation and church staff...using their time, gifts, and talents...working together to accurately reflect and promote the life our congregation as a member of the Presbyterian Church. Above all, we want our ministry to be faithful to the Head of the Church, Jesus Christ.

Filled with the spirit, we want our communications to be clear and accurate...the kind of information that's useful...is timely...coordinated...consistent...and is warm and inviting and inspirational...and of a quality that we all would be happy to like, share, tweet about, and otherwise pass along.

And by its very nature, communication is a two-way street...we want to be good listeners too...to not only hear your ideas about communications but to find ways to work together to find solutions.

Thank you for your commitment and support of the annual campaign. And any comments, suggestions or ideas related to communications, please let me or another session member know. And, if you have an interest or a talent that you'd like to contribute to communications, "pull up a chair and let's chat."

Thank you,
Lynn Pritchett

Volunteer Opportunities!

The Martinsville Community Collaborative is a wonderful annual event that is sponsored by Liberty University College of Osteopathic Medicine, Averett University, Virginia Dental Foundation and many community partners. This event provides a day of medical, dental and resource services for anyone in our community that is underserved. This is the 5th year of helping our community connect with medical and dental services and to provide the ability to connect them to a medical home with many insurance options. This particular day, all of the services are free of charge and anyone is welcome to come. No appointment needed

The event will take place on Saturday, November 2, 2019 at the Uptown Ministry Center behind Rania's Restaurant from 8-3pm. There will be over 100 medical, nursing and dental students and faculty to provide these free services. We are looking for friendly people to serve by escorting our clients throughout the clinic. These individuals will be our navigators and they will work in two shifts. One shift will be 6:30am – 12 noon and the second will be 11am- 5pm. We will also need Lead Navigators that stay all day to help manage the volunteers throughout the day. Lead Navigators will be provided a free meal at lunchtime.

This is such a great way to serve our community and you will be able to document community hours if needed.

If you are interested in being a navigator or a lead navigator, please contact Tracy Hinchcliff at 403-4222 or tracy.hinchcliff@gracenetnetworkmhc.org.

You don't have to have a medical background, just a friendly smile and servant heart!
