Winding Down the School Year

Well, I can't believe that we have two weeks until the end of school! What a great year this has been! As always, we hate to see the four-year-olds leave, but I know they are ready for a new adventure and are well prepared to move on to Kindergarten. This has been a busy several weeks with Discovery Days. We talked about bubbles, predictions, and our five senses, and everyone really enjoyed all the "experiments."

Our Art Show is Thursday, May 12, at 11:30 AM. The children will sing a few songs, have lunch, and browse the beautiful art they have worked on all year. We would love for you to join us on Thursday or just come by and look. The art should be up by Wednesday and is well worth seeing. Our last day is Thursday, May 19, and we will have a fun day at the Smith River Sports Complex.

We hate to say good-bye to two teachers this year. Tessa Bunting, who teaches two-year-olds, is leaving to work full time at Hooker Furniture. Mindy Cobb, teacher of one of the four-year classes, is moving back to Mississippi to be closer to her husband's job. They will both be dearly missed! We have hired their replacements: Sarah Cantley will teach two-year-olds, and Jessica Wulff will teach four-year-olds. I hope everyone has a wonderful summer! We will see you in September!
